Larry Gentile, center, receives the Garden State Numismatic Association Numismatist of the Year honors from GSNA vice presidents Jim Majoros, left, and Ray Williams. Gentile earned the award "for his tremendous dedication to the numismatic growth of the youth of our country and his voluntary performance of YN programs," according to the GSNA. The presentation took place during the organization's 27th annual convention in Somerset, N.J., May 30-June 1.

Garden State hails convention success

The Garden State Numismatic Association announced its 27th annual convention was successful. The convention took place in Somerset, N.J. at the Ukrainian Cultural Center on May 30-June 1.

There were approximately 60 dealers there, drawing more than 750 visitors over the show's three days.

Visitors could view 10 educational exhibits. Two People's Choice awards were given, one to Larry Gentile and one to Jim Majoros.

GSNA held a New Jersey token and medal show, taught by five of the dealers. Meetings by Colonial Coin Collectors Club, Early American Coppers, GSNA and

New Jersey Exonumia Society occurred Saturday.

Gentile also conducted the Young Numismatist program. He later was given the GSNA Numismatist of the Year Award, which carries a plaque and a $100 Savings Bond.

Another award, Coin Club of the Year, went to the Roxbury Coin Club, accepted by GSNA board and RCC member Steve Sauchelli.

The 28th annual convention is slated for May 15-17, 2003, at the same location.

Telephone token collectors organize

In June, a group of collectors organized and founded the International Telephone Token Association (ITTA). Montevideo, Uruguay, resident Jose' Luis Rubio has assumed the role of president. Robert K. Lusch of Monroe, Mich., is the treasurer-secretary. ITTA has plans for a bi-monthly newsletter and a Web site. The Web site is planned for early 2003. All communication is available in both English and Spanish.

At this time, the group has memberships from North and South America as well as Southeast Asia. Lusch pointed out ITTA wants to have membership from each continent by the end of the year.

There are no dues. "It is a voluntary decision among members," said Lusch.

Members are requested to submit an annual paper that provides an overview of their progress with their collections. Lusch explained, "We want all members included in the association's correspondence with the intent to assist other collectors in their research."

To join or for further information about the International Telephone Token Association, e-mail telephoneman14@juno.com, or write Robert K. Lusch, P.O. Box 2482, Monroe, MI 48161.

Miss Liberty gets a little color in her cheeks

■ Shouldn't there be a color symbolism on our coins that show the Liberty Cap design?

Under the rules of heraldry, colors are represented by the use of specific patterns of crosshatching, lines or other symbols. For some unexplained reason, none of our coins have the Liberty Cap shown using the standard heraldic designs that designate colors. Officially, the cap is described as being blue with a white border and gold stars.

■ I have a "COLD BUCK" token which shows a cowboy riding a polar bear. Any information on the piece?

They were from the North Pole Lions Club, of North Pole, Alaska, issued for the annual Farthest North Rodeo. They cost $1 in "nickel-silver" and $5 in bronze, with the latter numbered and limited to 500 for the 1965 issue. These were produced for a number of years, but I don't know if they are still being struck. Perhaps a reader can help.

■ What is a "fluttered wing" variety on the clad quarters?

That's a nickname I'd never heard before. I traced it to a nameless novice collector who got excited about the vague outline of the eagle's wings on the first 1965 quarters and claimed it was a new variety.

play this weakness, but the discovery of the variety was duly reported in a small hobby publication. As in this case, nicknames are for the birds.

■ I have a 1909-O $5 from New Orleans, but the mintmark looks somewhat odd. Could something be wrong with it?

It would be best to get your coin authenticated, as some Denver mintmarks have been altered to an O for this date and denomination. Less likely, but possible, are altered "D" mintmarks on 1906-1908 halves, 1906-1909 quarters and dimes.

■ Am I being conned? My friend says that some American Indian tribes once used woodpecker scalps as money.

Solid fact. The bright red plumage was a popular medium of exchange, bringing a shudder to today's bird lovers.

■ Was there a government in North America that issued only a single coin?

Prince Edward Island, now a part of Canada, issued a one-cent coin in 1871, with a mintage of 1 million. The coin is also known in proof, but it is the only issue of that "country."

■ U.S. cent dies have been reported to have struck up to 6 million coins per die pair in the 1970s, which seems high. Any similar figures from other mints?

The Royal Canadian Mint in 1945 struck 5 million cents with a single die pair, according to the annual Mint Report, and may have exceeded that record since.

■ Did Adolf Weinman, who designed the Walking Liberty half and the Mercury dime, do some artwork for the old Pennsylvania Station in New York?

Weinman executed 14 stone eagles, each weighing 2-1/2 tons, with much the same appearance as those on the reverse of the half dollar. They were removed and donated to several educational institutions when the building was razed in 1965.

Feldman earns Nettleship Award

Carl Feldman is the 20th recipient of the 2013 Nettleship Award presented by the New Jersey Numismatic Society.

Feldman joined the New Jersey Numismatic Society in 1980. His collecting specialties include early die varieties of the silver coins of the first Philadelphia mint, counter-stamped and engraved coins, Bust and Liberty Seated silver dollars and coins of the Carson City Mint.

He faithfully served the NJNS as president from 2004 to 2005 and as vice president on several occasions. Feldman is also a member of the Liberty Seated Collectors Club Officer Transition Committee.

The award medal's obverse portrays the likeness of a New Jersey "Colonial Copper" and the reverse is shrouded by a laurel wreath, inside which is engraved: "2013 Nettleship Award to Carl Feldman."

Charles F. Nettleship was the founding father of the New Jersey Numismatic Society in October 1933. In 1982, he donated $50 to the Society, which decided to establish a service award in his name.

Nominations are made by past awardees annually in October. If a nominee is selected to receive the Award, the Nettleship Medal is normally presented at the Society's December meeting. The Nettleship Award was last bestowed in 2012.

Carl Feldman receives honors from New Jersey state club Becomes 20th recipient of NJNS Charles F. Nettleship Service Award

Carl Feldman is the 20th recipient of the New Jersey Numismatic Society's Charles F. Nettleship Service Award medal.

Nettleship was the founding father of the New Jersey Numismatic Society in October 1933. In 1982, he donated $50 to the society, which decided to establish a service award in his name.

Nominations are made by past awardees annually in October. If a nominee is selected to receive the award, the Nettleship award medal is normally presented at the society's December meeting.

The Nettleship Service Award was last bestowed in 2012.

The award medal's obverse portrays the likeness of a New Jersey copper and the reverse displays a laurel wreath, inside which is engraved: "2013 Nettleship Award to Carl Feldman."

Feldman served the NJNS as president from 2004 to 2005 and as vice president on several occasions. Feldman is also a member of the Liberty Seated Collectors Club Officer Transition Committee.

Feldman joined the New Jersey

Numismatic Society in 1980. His collecting specialties include early die varieties of the silver coins of the first Philadelphia Mint, counterstamped and engraved coins, Bust and Seated Liberty silver dollars, and coins of the Carson City Mint.

For further information, contact NJNS President David Ginsburg at dginsburg109@comcast.net. ■

Louis G. Kaufman Civil War Token Collection anchors Krueger sale

BY PAUL GILKES COIN WORLD STAFF

The Louis G. Kaufman Civil War Token Collection anchors Krueger & Krueger LLC's Jan. 16 to 19 auction in Appleton, Wis.

The auction is being held at the Holiday Inn, 150 S. Nicolet Road.

The Louis G. Kaufman Endowment Fund in Marquette, Mich., has commissioned for the first time in 35 years the sale of items from the Kaufman holdings. The auction offers nearly 900 Civil War tokens; hundreds of ancient, medieval and world coins; and fractional, obsolete, Confederate States of America and large-size federal notes.

Kaufman was a wealthy philanthropist from Michigan.

Among the auction's Civil War tokens, many of which were displayed from 1923 to 1977 at the First National Bank of Marquette, is a flipover double-struck copper 1863 J. Wightman piece from Newark, N.J.

The Jan. 16 to 19 auction includes consignments from other collections.

For more information, call the firm at 715-630-5521 or visit www.kurtkruegercoins.com. A 17.5 percent buyer's fee will be added to the final closing price of each lot won. ■

Among the Civil War tokens to be offered in a Jan. 16 to 19 auction is this flipover double-struck 1863 J. Wightman, Newark, N.J., piece.

New Jersey Numismatic Society celebrates historic 900th meeting.

Established in 1933 by Charles F. Nettle-ship, the New Jersey Numismatic Society (NJNS) held its 900th meeting at the Madison Public Library on January 20. The NJNS commemorated the occasion with specially engraved examples of the medal originally commissioned in 2008 from Medallion Art Company to celebrate the society's 75th anniversary. The guest speaker at the event was Vicken Yegparian, vice president of numismatics for Stack's Bowers Galleries, who presented "The Medals of the Literary Society of King's College in New York, 1767-1771: The Unheralded First Civilian Medals Produced in America."
